

Brandon Mendoza

Government Affairs Manager Greater Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce

Brandon Mendoza is a Brooklyn expat who has lived in Boston, northeastern and central Pennsylvania. The government affairs manager at the Greater Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce – an affiliate of the Allegheny Conference, now calls Pittsburgh home. Brandon manages federal and local advocacy for the Chamber. He has focused on issues at the federal and local levels, including: immigration reform, energy policy, foreign direct investment, local government, and trade and exports. Most recently, Brandon worked with the Chamber’s business investment affiliate, the Pittsburgh Regional Alliance (PRA), to win a large-scale foreign direct investment into our region from Shell Chemicals Company.
