Owner
Pinchback Consulting LLC

Allyce Pinchback, a native of Pittsburgh, most recently spent five years at Pittsburgh Public Schools, where she served as Director of Professional Development and the Professional Development Project Manager. Her main responsibilities included managing a coherent system of professional learning for teachers and school leaders, and leading several projects around capacity building, educator evaluation, and teacher leadership. She is currently in the process of starting a consulting business to support companies and organizations with their strategic planning and staff development efforts.

Allyce also spent three years as a Program Officer for the World Affairs Council of Pittsburgh, where she was primarily responsible for building relationships with schools and community partners to increase the number of African American males eligible for the Council's Global Travel Scholarship Program. She serves on several boards and as a member of numerous community organizations for which she has received several awards and honors, including the Pittsburgh Urban Magnet Project (President), the Rukmini Foundation, and the Pittsburgh Global Shapers (Immediate Past Curator). Allyce is also a mentor to three female students. She graduated magna cum laude from the University of Pittsburgh in 2009 with a B.S. in Psychology and Japanese, and is currently pursuing a Master of Public Management from the Heinz College at Carnegie Mellon University. Allyce is excited to bring her passion for education, international affairs, and service to the Vibrant Pittsburgh Next Generation Council to support them in building a thriving and inclusive Pittsburgh region.
